

West 'By the Side' of Communities to Support Global, National and Local COVID-19 Pandemic Efforts

April 28, 2020

Key donations made to the World Health Organization COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund, American Red Cross, American Nurses Foundation, No Kid Hungry and Philabundance

Exton, PA — April 28, 2020 — Building on a strong culture of giving back to the communities where team members live and work, West Pharmaceutical Services, Inc. (NYSE: WST), a global leader in innovative solutions for injectable drug administration, is donating $1 million across multiple organizations that are making important contributions to society and need support during the COVID-19 pandemic. Notably, the Company is making a $200,000 donation to the American Red Cross (ARC) and $100,000 donations to each of the COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund for WHO (World Health Organization), American Nurses Foundation, No Kid Hungry and Philabundance.

“A defining characteristic of West is our commitment to put people first—our customers, their patients, our team members and others in need—and these donations are one way we can demonstrate that ‘we are by your side’ during these challenging times,” said Annette Favorite, Senior Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer at West. “In addition, we’ve been working to provide a steady supply of products for customers, including those who are working hard to bring diagnostics, anti-viral therapeutics and vaccines for COVID-19 to market. This has been an incredible effort by our teams worldwide.”

About the West Donations

The COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund, a global effort led by the WHO, is supporting countries to prevent, detect, and respond to the pandemic. Donations support WHO and the work of its partners to track and understand the spread of the virus; to ensure patients get the care they need and frontline workers get essential supplies and information; and to accelerate research and development of a vaccine and treatments for all who need them.

West’s donation to the American Red Cross will support their national healthcare and emergency response efforts. This donation adds to West’s 2020 commitment to ARC, which has included the purchase of an Emergency Response Vehicle (ERV). The ERV will be deployed in Southeastern Pennsylvania and around the country in response to COVID-19.

Other organizations being supported through West donations include: the American Nurses Foundation Coronavirus Response Fund for Nurses; No Kid Hungry, supporting food- insecure children during the pandemic; Philabundance, a member of Feeding America working to ensure individuals and families have access to enough food; and additional local support in the markets where West employees live and work including food pantries and organizations providing community services.
